The Renovation Planning Guide

Everything you should think through before you start a remodel — from budgeting to hiring — from the team at JICO Construction.

1 Get clear on your goals

Before you talk pricing, get specific about what "done" looks like. The clearer your vision, the more accurate every estimate will be.

- ✓ What problem are you solving — space, function, looks, resale, or all of it?
- ✓ Which rooms or areas are in scope (and which are off-limits)?
- ✓ Must-haves vs. nice-to-haves — be honest about the difference
- ✓ Do you plan to stay long-term, or is this to sell? It changes the math.

2 Set a realistic budget

Ballpark ranges to start the conversation. Final cost depends on size, materials, and condition — always get a written estimate.

Project	Typical range
Bathroom remodel	$8k – $30k
Kitchen remodel	$20k – $70k+
Deck / outdoor living	$6k – $25k

Roof replacement	$8k – $25k
Room addition	$30k – $100k+
Flooring (whole home)	$5k – $20k

Pro tip: Set aside a 10–15% contingency for surprises behind the walls (old wiring, water damage, code updates). A good contractor flags these early instead of after demo.

3 Your pre-project checklist

- ☐ Collect inspiration photos (Instagram, Pinterest, magazines)
- ☐ Measure the space and note what you want to keep vs. change
- ☐ Decide your firm budget and your stretch budget
- ☐ List your must-have finishes and fixtures
- ☐ Note your ideal start date and any hard deadlines
- ☐ Plan for living around the work (or staying elsewhere)

4 10 questions to ask any contractor

- ✓ Are you licensed and insured? (Ask to see proof.)
- ✓ Is the work covered by a written contract and warranty?
- ✓ Who is my day-to-day point of contact?
- ✓ Will you handle permits and inspections?
- ✓ What's the payment schedule — and is there an upfront deposit?
- ✓ Do you use your own crew or subcontractors?
- ✓ What's a realistic timeline, start to finish?
- ✓ How do you handle changes and unexpected issues?
- ✓ Can I see recent local projects or references?

- ✓ How do you keep the site clean and safe?

Red flags: no written contract, cash-only, huge upfront deposits, no license/insurance, or pressure to "decide today." A trustworthy contractor welcomes these questions.

5 How JICO Construction works

We keep it simple and transparent: a free on-site consultation, a clear written estimate, one crew that handles every trade, and a final walkthrough we don't skip. Built on integrity, honesty, and transparency since 2021.
